SUMMARY

The project "Action and reaction to bullying" was born from the desire of our young people to combat bullying, in all its forms, with the help of forum theater and image theater. The young people of the association realized that bullying affects more and more students and young people in the community and they wanted that through forum theater and image theater and other methods of non-formal education to find ways to help them stop being victims of bullying and change the mentality of those involved. The project aims to eliminate discrimination and promote attitudes of tolerance and empathy by involving participants from disadvantaged environments. Together, young people have the opportunity to work to achieve a common goal: staging a theater show.

The aim of our project is to help promote methods of informing and helping victims of bullying by including those affected by bullying due to their environment or origin, social and cultural status and / or ethnicity.

Development of knowledge through non-formal education of 36 young people about the phenomenon of bullying in all stages of the project.

Preparing the 36 young people to use the methods of forum theater and image theater in the 8 days of mobility, thus being able to use them independently during the dissemination period.

Promoting opportunities through the new Erasmus program in all phases of the project.
